Dear Sir:

CHANGE IN SMALL ENTITY STATUS

It was realized in late March 1995 that applicant in this application is no longer entitled to small entity status.

This application was assigned from an individual inventor to the present owner of record, which is a small entity. An error occurred in overlooking the fact that a license had been granted under the application by the assignee to the large entity assignor effective as of September 3, 1993. Accordingly, while small entity status was claimed in good faith, and was initially accurate, it is now recognized that such status was not available at the time of the response filed July 13, 1994. The error was only now discovered because until now no further consideration of the small entity status had been required. The error was discovered because the additional fees occasioned by the unintentional abandonment resulted in greater scrutiny of the fees than normal, and the prior inadvertent error was noticed.

A check in the amount of $420.00, equal to the deficiency between the amount paid and the amount due for a time extension obtained in connection with this application, on July 11, 1994, is enclosed. This deficiency is being paid more than three months after the date the error occurred.

Dated: April 19, 1995
